Stepping into September

Parade Marching and Pep Band

The Parkston band is getting ready to give audiences a number of great performances! The month of September and early part of October will be a busy time for us.

The Parkston Band (a.k.a the Parkston Marching Trojans) is marching this fall semester, more specifically we are focusing on parade marching. Last year, we were very successful in the music caption of the parade competition. This year, we have new additions to help us reach our full potential in the other categories.

The Parkston Marching Trojans now have color guard members and a front ensemble.

The color guard consists of Kim Weber, Dani Norden, Sadie Lindeman, Emma Poore, Emma Scharber, and Zoey Harrison. They help give the ensemble a visual representation of the music by performing choreography with flags and swing flags.

The front ensemble includes Elizabeth Kinneberg, Kayla Neugebauer, Preston Mattheis, and Jackie Braley. The front ensemble is a featured part of the two pieces in the performance and help add musical color to the overall production.

Before we as the Parkston Marching Trojans make our way to any competitions, be sure to come out, hear us play and support the other PHS activities!! September 14th the PHS football team takes on Platte-Geddes in the new PHS football stadium. There we will play pep band songs to help get the team pumped up during pre-game and at halftime!

Can't make it that night? Check out the column to the right for more pep band dates and chances to come out and support the PHS students in what they do!
